

BIRCHFIELD NURSERY SCHOOL

January 2

Another fabulous week at Birchfield is over and the children are all back in their routines. It is truly fabulous watching them engage daily in phonics, Math's, learning challenge curriculum but then long stretches of independent play. We are blessed with amazing children who engage so well with all the nursery offers and there is always a wonderful buzz. We look forward to sharing your child's interests and progress and our next Parents evening. This half term is an informal evening for you to come along and see what is inside the building. If you require a 1:1 slot to discuss any concerns please contact the office. Unfortunately we do not have time in the timetable to offer these to all parents this half term.

BOOK BAGS

Next week children will start to have their own special group time in our school library. We are fortunate to have a well stocked library full of beautiful books which we want our children to enjoy with you. Book bags go home Friday and must be returned by the following Thursday. If your child wants to keep the same book that is absolutely fine but still bring it back in case they change their mind

PARKING

Thankyou to all parents who are now parking away from the driveway. A reminder that the car park is for staff and disabled drivers only due to limited space and unsafe access at pick up and drop off

REMINDERS

Complete primary school applications online before January 14th

Check school website for upcoming events

We can accept and administer medications (lots of bugs this half term) Please contact the school office if you require support with medications.

Next weeks the big question...
"Why did the snowman melt?"
Look forward to lots of scientific conversations about heating and cooling
